SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITY

A Film Festival by, for and about women supporting healthy girls and breast cancer prevention

Girls on the Run is proud to host LUNAFEST on Wednesday, September 20, 6 - 9 p.m., at the Rochester Civic Theatre. The event is open to women and men (suggested audience is ages 16 and up). Individual tickets (including appetizers and raffle/mystery box opportunities) are $25, or five tickets for $100.

LUNAFEST is a national film festival that features short films by and about women. The LUNAFEST films range from animation to fictional drama and cover topics relating to women's health, motherhood, body image, relationships, cultural diversity, breaking barriers and more. The films are selected by an outside board of advisors comprised of notables in the film industry.

All proceeds from LUNAFEST are donated to charity

- Eighty-five percent of the proceeds will benefit Girls on the Run, a local non-profit that creatively incorporates running to help girls activate their limitless potential. This year, nearly 4,500 girls will participate and more than $300,000 in financial aid will be provided to support girls in need in Rochester and the Twin Cities. Learn more at gotrtwincities.org
- The remaining 15 percent will benefit LUNA's primary cause partner, the Breast Cancer Fund, an organization dedicated to identifying and advocating for the elimination of environmental causes of the disease.
